A LIBERAL EDUCATION....

DR. FRANCIS W. KRACHER
Achtungsvoll gewidmet

THE University of Dubuque has been built upon the bedrock of the never-ending loyalty of its faculty and administration. Especially does Dr. Kracher fit the description of the "living stone," having given of himself freely during the University's less prosperous days. Symbolic of the college's academic standards has been the solid scholarship stressed in Dr. Kracher's classes. In addition to his teaching duties, Dr. Kracher has been the Registrar for ten years and for the last several years the Advisor to the Senior Class.

To Dr. Kracher we dedicate this 1950 Key.

President of the University

"Key Points in the Dubuque Design:

In the classroom—a friendly spirit in adventurous study;

On the campus—a friendly spirit in community living;

On fields of play—a friendly spirit in strenuous competition;

Everywhere, always,—the friendly spirit of Christian understanding. . . .

That we may be men and women "of God's right hand"

To the glory of Him who said, "henceforth I call you friends."

What Makes Life Interesting?

Trading dictaphones and shaving cylinders — Recipient of request to see the Dean (in an agonized tone) "What did I do?" — The way Betty rolls her eyes up and then flutters her eyelashes down when excited — Mr. Warner's nickname for Gayle, "Hysteria" — Where's Toots? Up in the darkroom — Dorothy and Marcheta teasing Emery — Two buzzes and then there goes Gayle hunting for Betty to find out where she filed it — The mirror Mr. Warner has on his desk so he can keep an eye on Hysteria — Public Relations Office — Herb tickling Margie — How about seeing some of those unposed pictures you took in Public Relations, George — "Hey, Les, how about a print of this negative, say in about 5 minutes?" — Correcting addressograph plates in your sleep, Mrs. Jewel? — Wrong office, "I want a ticket for tonight" — The many scents in Ethel's office, including Wood Hue?? — Dr. La Porte, "Gayle, don't you know that Coke is bad for you?" — Questions over the front counter — "Got a couple of nickels for a dime?" — "Are the G.I. checks here yet?" — Usual retort — "No! The self help checks aren't ready yet!" — Can you get this multigraphed by next period, Garnet? — Mrs. Purvis, who stays at noon when no one else wants to — Want something to eat? Try Gayle's middle drawer — The bottom drawer Dr. La Porte keeps empty to put his feet on — Anita and the scratched dictaphone cylinder — Usual questions — "When are the grades coming out?" When will the next semester's schedule be ready?" —

Student Governing Boards . . .

Keith Ackman
President
Student Council

1. Student Council

The Student Council acts mainly as the student governing body on campus.

The purposes of this elected body are to maintain college traditions, to promote higher scholarship, to further co-operation between the student body and faculty, and mainly to voice the sentiment of the student body.

Major projects of the Student Council include welcoming the freshmen at the beginning of the year, the staging of Homecoming, the sponsoring of a Red Feather Drive in co-operation with the City Council, the editing of a student handbook, the arranging for a student aid fund, and participation in the nomination of the year's Who's Who Candidates.

Meetings are open to all students as the Council wishes to discover the cause and solution for many campus problems.

Under the able guidance of Dr. Berger, the Council is composed of the presidents from: Panhellenic, Inter-Fraternity, Student Council, Chi Alpha Omega, Iota Chi Sigma, Student Christian Association, and the Seminary.

Meeting only once a month, the Council has many things to discuss concerning coming chapel services and organizing committees for the Faith and Life Conference.

5. Social Affairs Committee

The planning of a well-balanced school calendar is under the direction of a small governing body titled the Student Affairs Committee. This committee is composed of five faculty members and five students. One student is chosen from each class and one from the Student Council.

Definite policies have been drawn up to clarify the school calendar, and to aid in preventing or eliminating conflicts that may arise in the setting of dates for campus activities. A new procedure has also been made for organizations to obtain dates for their social events.

The Committee has met every other week, serving as a clearing house for requests made by organizations for scheduling their activities. Busy? . . . .

4. Board of Publications

The University of Dubuque Board of Publications acts as an advisory agency to all University publications, helping them establish policies, standardize and expedite their activities, and resolve the difficulties that come up during the year. This board also selects the editor and business manager of the Key, Cue and passes the candidates for Key offices.

Faculty representatives to this board include chairman Herbert Manning, supervisor of University publications; Miss Anna Roorda, Cue advisor; Mr. D. Alan Martens, Key advisor; Miss Rose Korsmo, librarian; Mr. John Warner, business manager, and Mr. Carl Dallinger, dean of the college.

5. Severance House Council

The women's governing body on campus is called the Severance House Council. It is composed of elected officers, two representatives at large, a freshman representative, an Annex representative, the House-mother, and the Dean of Women. It is the duty of this group to meet, and to consider problems arising in regard to life in the dormitories, and about the campus.

This year Severance Council sponsored an Open House, a Homecoming float, a box social, and a spring breakfast. When it is necessary, general house meetings are called. At this time, announcements are made, and topics are discussed. It is often customary to have a short social time following the business meeting.

The Council members look back on a happy year, with the hope that they have served their classmates well.

So much a part of our campus life are the friends pictured here. Maybe you worked in the kitchen, with the cooks . . . Or out with the boiler room gang . . . Or were you just the electrician's short circuit . . . or perhaps you just happened to carry in the snow that accidentally dropped from third floor down to main . . . or were you the one that pulled the sweeper plug out over in the Commons?

When you fell asleep in the library at noon, she used to just dust around you and you probably can't remember how many times that attic light was left on, for the watchman to check . . . Y' knew who carried the keys in the gym, and downstairs in the Commons y' knew whom to ask when you couldn't find what you wanted from the store room . . . And in Severance, you girls remember Amanda, who is not pictured here . . . Some real memories have grown up for us around some really grand people!

With the emergence of the mid-century class from the commencement exercises the biggest class in the history of Dubuque will become alumni. What does this Class of '50 take with them as they transfer from the student to the alumni files?

. . . Memories and some knowledge . . .

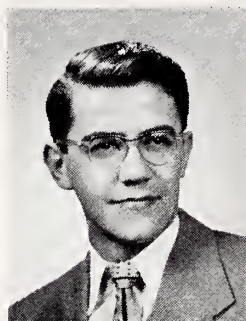

Knowledge. Knowledge taken from the classroom and the library. Knowledge that seniors dominant the honorary scholastic. And knowledge from bull sessions in the rooms and coffee sessions at the Goats.

Memories of the football season and of their last student homecoming. Of having the team sparked by senior players and captains, of a senior queen and prize-winning senior decorations. Then remembrances of basketball with four seniors on the squad including captain Watts . . .

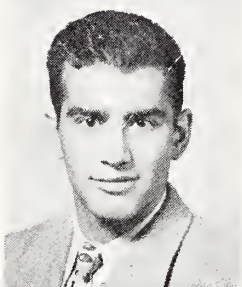

. . . Memories of senior stars on the Campus Lane stage; of senior presidents of almost every organization, memories of senior filled fraternities. Memories of their senior year, of doing everything for the last time.

As I was walking to the girls' dorm after a days' struggle of classes, I overheard two underclassmen talking. Not wanting to eavesdrop, I started on my way—when I heard the word—junior—then I had to listen.

"Won't it be wonderful to be juniors someday and have as many successful activities as they have. Remember how they really used salesmanship on those Homecoming pins and made a 100% sale." "We sure had fun laughing and enjoying their versatile talent in the 'Keyhole' show, too—everything from hillbillies to Al Jolson. Of course we can't forget the beautiful time at the 'Winter Wonderland' with the snow scenes—a sleigh—and just the right effects." "When the 'Valiant' appeared, they copped the oscar for the best actress in the one-act play contest. To complete the formal dances, they produced the memorable Prom with the queen and her court presiding over the spring atmosphere."

"Did you notice the juniors sit up proudly as Prexy Bartlow received the symbol robe of the seniors. We knew that the class would continue to carry out the standards they had set for themselves."

"To end their year of activities they have put their heads together to bring you this book."

With that the two turned the corner and I continued home, proud of being one of the class of 1951.

Sophomore Class History . . .

As golden leaves fluttered down upon Miss Campus' rustling gown, the Centennial class of '52 felt the calling of their cousins, Scholastica and Activia.

The sophomores came flocking back and were welcomed by the friendly "Hello" of Mr. Steffens Hall, the registrar. Mr. Steffens caught the basic theme of chatter—"Let's make our sophomore year more outstanding than ever—keep up our fine traditions!" These thoughts were welcomed by Mr. Steffens who opened his heart, Konzett Lounge, to be the center of all their class meetings. There great decisions were made—Homecoming decorations, the nickelodeon party, class play and next year's Key staff.

We mustn't forget Mrs. Severance (Sevie, for short), Mr. Steffens Hall's wife. When I asked her for a few comments, she said, "I enjoy their youthfulness and pluckiness to attain the unachievable, even if it is at my expense. You should have seen them decorating my back yard with mermaids! Thank goodness, Homecoming comes only once a year."

Sevie's younger cousin, Campus Lane Theatre, received the sophomores into her heart, the stage. Theatre said, "The class received first in its one-act class play, 'The Wonder Hat,' and one of its members received the best actor award."

"Aren't you neglecting other fields?" interrupted Prof. Chalmers Field. "Sports, for instance—and music. Sophomores have contributed fine athletes and musicians to the campus."

"Well," confessed Sevie, "maybe we're partial, but where noise, difficulty and work thrives—a motherly instinct bursts forth from my old heart. These are the sophomores—not green, supposedly know all the answers, but actually they are on the first rung of the ladder to success."

Freshmen Class History . . .

"I think," said he, "that it has been a great year."

"And I agree," returned his short friend. "We've had a fine time."

The two were strolling along the familiar pathway toward the sun dial. It was spring.

"Remember our initiation?" asked the taller. "Boy, were we green back in those freshman days! But we showed those upper-classmen when we broke tradition and won the tug of war!"

His short friend gingerly seated herself on the grass in the shadow of the dial. "We surely did! And we managed to live through initiation into fraternities too. It was really fun—wearing all those fancy get-ups and doing silly jobs they gave us." She was silent for a moment and then added, "But our year wasn't all play and no work. I thought Chemistry and Biology were plenty rough. And those Bible tests!!!"

"Remember how hard we all worked on the Follies? And then later when we as a class competed in the One-Act Play Contest?"

"Yes," she agreed, "we've had a good deal of talent in our class. Musicians, artists, writers and actors were in abundance!"

"Our muscular bunch of athletes has certainly made us proud too," he reminded her.

"We've had a grand class and a big year!"

Clasping hands they walked on, happy in the thought that their class—the class of 1953—would go on to accomplish greater things in the future.

. . . Seminary

Seminary Fellowship

The Theological Seminary of the University of Dubuque is one of nine accredited Presbyterian Theological Seminaries. Its standards and curriculum are determined by the Constitution of the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America and by the standards of the Council on Theological Education and the American Association of Theological Schools. It is fully accredited by these bodies, offering bachelor degrees in Divinity and a Master of Theology degree in the field of Rural Church and Life.

The Seminary at Dubuque is required by the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church to specialize in training men entering rural pastorates in the United States and overseas. Growing library facilities, a well organized and supervised field work program, and a course in graduate work, including projects of research, are designed to meet this specification. While the Seminary is Presbyterian related, it welcomes students from other denominations who are seeking ordination by their own church bodies. The curriculum is designed to serve these students as well as Presbyterians.

In its statement of objectives, the Faculty of the Theological Seminary maintains a close adherence to the classical theological disciplines, yet is alert to the need for developing practical skills and proficiency in techniques required of a minister. This balance has been maintained and will be maintained in the future. Ministers who receive training at Dubuque Seminary are well grounded in the basic studies of Theology, Church History, Bible and Homiletics; and in addition, they have had actual practice in solving specific church problems. Both course work and supervised field work prepare them for their tasks.

The faculty of the Seminary has further stated its purpose "to enrich the personal life and Christian character of the student by the practice and growth of personal piety." To this end, each day includes a worship service. Since the school is small, each student has an opportunity to know his professors more intimately than is possible in a larger institution. It is possible, therefore, for the student to understand the personal faith and life of his teacher very intimately.

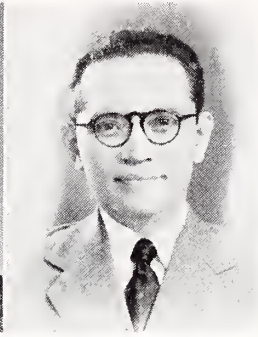

During the academic year 1949-50 there were 58 students enrolled; 45 of these were also pastors of churches in the environ of Dubuque. The Seminary Fellowship is a self-governing association. The officers of this group are consulted by the Dean in matters relating to the welfare of the students. Through this organization, the student body contributes to the support of three seminaries overseas. Also the social program of the Seminary is directed by the Seminary Fellowship.

Under the leadership of the new Dean, Rev. Elwyn A. Smith, the seminary looks forward to continued growth and strength in curriculum, library facilities, and student body. By this means, the Seminary will serve the Church and the Church throughout the world.

Master of Theology

For several years requests have emphasized the need of further technical training in Rural Church work beyond that done on a Bachelor of Divinity level. After much consultation the Theological Seminary of the University of Dubuque has developed an advanced degree called a Master of Theology in Rural Church and Life Work. The work is especially organized to prepare people for the following positions: Rural Pastors, Coordinators of Co-operative Parishes, Directors of Larger Parishes, Rural Church Executives, Directors of Migrant Work, Teachers in Mission Schools, National Missions Workers, Foreign Missionaries, Agricultural Missionaries, Teachers for Colleges and Seminaries, Rural Specialists for State Councils, and Church Leaders from Foreign Countries.

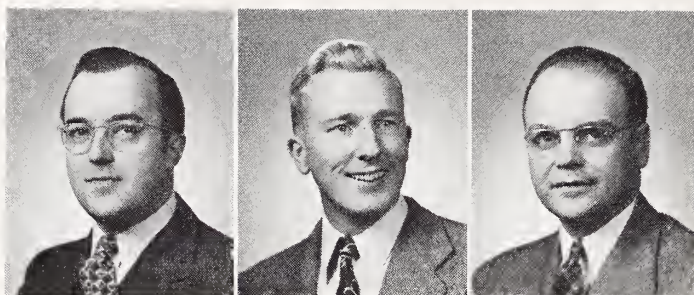

Thirty hours of credit are required. Six of these hours must be taken in the older disciplines of the seminary. The remaining twenty-four are divided among class work, research, and thesis. Courses in Christian education, community organization, leadership training, and population are offered.

In the fall of 1949 and again with the spring semester of 1950 a limited number of students enrolled. Three of these will be granted their degrees at the Spring Convocation. The Rev. Santiago G. Iyoy, District Superintendent of the United Church of Christ in the Philippines, is completing his research on the comity of the church in the Philippines. Mr. Jen-chi Chang of China will complete his work with the presentation of a thesis on volunteer leadership for rural church work. His research is being carried on in the Jo Daviess Cooperative Parish. The Rev. Laurence Nelson of Bellevue, Iowa, will also receive his degree. His research deals with a specialized problem which faces most workers in town and country areas.

Parsonettes is an organization for Seminary Students' wives. Meetings are held the fourth Friday of each month for the purpose of fellowship, instruction and inspiration. Beginning with a devotional service at 10:30 A.M., in the Seminary chapel, the meeting then moves on to consider such varied topics as missionary literature, Weddings in church and home, Christmas programs, church symbolism, women's work in the church and book reviews.

The Seminettes (Wartburg Seminary Students' wives group) were entertained by our group. We in turn were received by the Seminettes. Monthly "Fun Nights" were given with the Seminary Fellowship as guests.

We enjoyed delicious luncheons, teas, morning coffee, and picnics, all of which helped to create a rich fellowship and fresh exchange of ideas. A nursery, greatly appreciated, was held each meeting in the Manning home.

This our second year has shown growth and gives promise of a greater future. Early hours, the many miles travelled and weary children all merge into a stronger tie that binds us to one another as we learn to serve Him better.

Seminary Office Staff

An office staff for the Seminary? Why sure!—three of us: Mrs. C. L. Ostrander, serving her fifth year as librarian; Miss Shirley Smith, in her third year, as Secretary to the Rural Church Department; and a newcomer from Topeka, Kansas, Mrs. Don Parnell, Secretary to the Dean, telephone operator, mail clerk, translator and interpreter. Extra curricular activities for Mrs. Ostrander may be anything from finding the one book for a college student that will tell you “all about the Bible in order to pass an exam in three days” to “tending” the babies on Parsonette days. Shirley’s work, besides being Rural Church Secretary, includes overseeing the Rural Church pulpits, and nursing an African violet. In addition to a full time job as Secretary of the Dean, etc., Doris’ work may range from interpreting the theology of Schleiermacher, Barth, and Kierkegaard, to seeing that guests don’t forget their dentures. Or we could tell you about the time Mrs. Ostrander found some “wound-up” false teeth under a book, the “quiet” conversations students—or professors—carry on outside the library door—but the time the staff really had to watch their steps was when the mistletoe was hanging in the lounge. Their work is interesting, varied, and enjoyable. The student body brings them contacts from China, the Philippines, Mexico, all parts of the United States, and Texas.

In the Heart of Rural America

For four days the students of the Seminary study and live in close communion with Faculty and others striving for the same goal. But for the remainder of the week the student will be serving his God and Church in small parishes near by. Of the forty-five Seminarians who serve churches in the area, some travel as much as 600 miles on a weekend to come and go from their fields.

Following Miss Smith's talk, each club member paired off to find a pair of owls. An owl pellet to find a pair of owls was helpful.

As a manifestation of typical debate technique, let us first define our terms. By Iowa Lambda, we mean the local chapter of the National Honorary Forensic Fraternity, Pi Kappa Delta. In a more specific sense, the Greek letters, Pi Kappa Delta stand for the Greek phrase, Peitho Kale Dikaia, "the art of persuasion, beautiful and just."

The focus of the year's activities was on debate, although oratory, discussion, and extemporaneous speaking were not neglected. The varsity debaters have bound up the wounds incurred from the frontal assaults of teams from many colleges and universities. Of this year's squad, four members have sheathed their debate card file boxes as far as their University activity is concerned.

The debate squad participated in six tournaments: the Bradley Invitational, receiving a rating of Superior; the Pi Kappa Delta Province of the Upper Mississippi tournament at Upper Iowa, taking second place honors; the Grand Western at Northwestern University, Eau Claire Teachers' College, University of Nebraska and the Iowa State tournament at Drake.

The Natural Science Club was formally organized during the early fall of 1949. Preliminary planning meetings had been held last spring previous to the summer session, however, no definite action was taken at that time.

This new organization on our campus brings together twice a month all students who are interested in the advancement of science. The purpose of the organization is to stimulate scientific interest as well as that of promoting scientific knowledge at the University of Dubuque.

Under the guidance of Professor G. Y. Bijjani as faculty advisor and Don Jewel as its first president, the club has sponsored talks by off-campus speakers as well as those by several faculty professors. Student talks, papers and several films have helped form a well balanced program. This has added up to a successful first year for the club.

The club is looking forward to next year with great enthusiasm. It is planned that the club will sponsor several trips next year, probably to a museum, scientific laboratory, or to other scientific projects. Inauguration of field trips for nature study will help balance next year's program. It is expected that the club will have a greatly increased enrollment because of its popularity on campus.

The club closed its 1949-50 activities with a party and a social gathering.

The Omicron Mu Fraternity began the 49-50 year with its annual picnic and initiation of officers at Eagle Point.

The members periodically sweated over cookbooks and electric plates to serve up a number of projects: taffy pull, bake sale, monthly birthday dinners (which featured Miss Hagen's angel food cakes), teas, a fraternity banquet, and the annual Christmas banquet.

The highlight of the social calendar was the "Sweetheart Swirl," honoring Mr. Cupid and St. Valentine. In addition, the University Home Economics Club played hostess to many sister clubs of Iowa on State Day, April 15.

The year ended with the installation of new officers at the closing picnic at Eagle Point, where the senior members received the diploma of Omicron Mu—a cookbook!

Officers

President.....Earl K. Haden
 Vice President.....John Hartog
 Secretary-Treasurer.....Nan Hendricks

The I.F.T.A. is based on this important fact: the future of mankind is with the youth of today. It offers college people activities through which they can improve themselves and look forward to useful careers in the teaching profession.

At our monthly meetings we have heard speakers and viewed films that have brought to our attention topics such as these: guidance in schools, problems of prospective teachers, and schools of other lands.

It is hoped that within another year the local chapter will gain strength enough to become a charter member of the national organization.

A new "adventure" began this fall when the Y.W.C.A., the Gospel Team and Inter-Varsity Christian Fellowship united into one group which was called the Student Christian Association.

Two hundred and twenty-two students joined the S.C.A. and participated in the activities of the year. First came the candle-light dedication service. In the fall a lecture on "Love, Courtship, and Marriage" was heard. We remember the making of Thanksgiving tray favors and the collection of food for baskets. Among other events were the Christmas Banquet, the repairing of toys, the winter party, the formal banquet, May Fete, and the Sunrise Service.

Other S.C.A. responsibilities are sending gospel teams to hospitals, homes, and churches as well as missionary drives, vesper services, and five o'clock prayer meetings.

The purposes of the S.C.A. are: To deepen the spiritual life and strengthen Christian fellowship among the members of the Dubuque family—to gain a fuller understanding of the Christian faith and discipleship—to discover God's will for our lives and do it—to lead students to accept the Christian faith according to the Scriptures.

Realizing the necessity for spiritual growth through fellowship with those of like professional interests, Chi Alpha Omega, a national pre-theological fraternity was organized on this campus.

Chi Alpha was reclassified in the University's social family from that of a regular fraternity to a departmental fraternity. The year's activities were planned in a manner that would not duplicate classroom instruction. Films on "Jerusalem" and the "Apostle Peter" as well as discussion, debate, singing and messages by prominent speakers helped to round out the worship services.

Seven new members were initiated into the group, while eight more were pledged. Professor Kenneth Smith joined Dr. Berger in advising the fraternity.

Iota Chi Sigma is the Women's Christian Service Sorority on campus, for the purpose of binding together students who are preparing for various phases of Christian work and to encourage others to consider these fields. Programs for a fellowship of work, study and worship help to make more meaningful, the motto of the sorority, "In Christ's Service."

Meetings are planned to present opportunities for future work, service, and to deal with current situations in the Church. Several speakers shared their experiences to the group on a variety of subjects. Dr. Yinger of St. Luke's Methodist Church spoke on the opportunities of service in the city area. The New Curriculum Material passed beneath the spectroscope of Dr. Elwyn Smith. Realizing that many students would be engaged in summer activities, Dr. Comfort offered concrete suggestions for summer vacation school. Slides on Indian Life in Mexico were shown by Mrs. Rollo La Porte.

Iota Chi joined with its big brother organization on campus, Chi Alpha Omega, in a Christmas and Easter service.

The colors of the sorority are very significant, green and white, symbolizing growth and purity, the goal of each member.

... Drama

Personality from Hollywood—brought to our campus by the Campus Lane Theatre: an author, "My Love Sought Beauty." The production of Miss Frances Douglass Cooper's play, which was its second, was made doubly attractive by the presence of the author herself.

The Drama department is kept busy from one day to the next by putting on play after play for the enjoyment of the students and friends of the University.

But there is a longer story behind each production which concerns in particular, the Campus Lane Theatre Board. They have the responsibilities of supervising all productions. Each member of the board is a committee chairman and with their committee, they provide those realistic costumes and make-up—beautifully painted stage and props, as well as the care of refreshments and ushers.

University Orchestra

This year the orchestra tackled several difficult orchestral selections which were introduced at their concerts during the year.

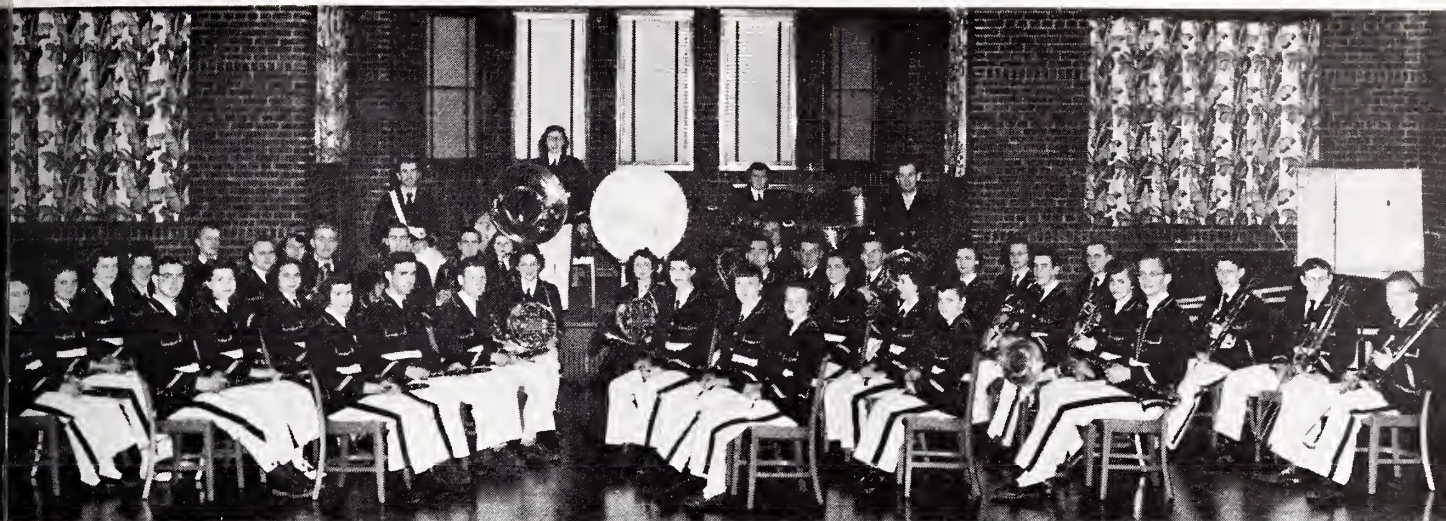

In their winter concert on March 21, the orchestra very successfully played Brahms' First Symphony. There was also a variety of light and clever pieces.

In the spring concert, Margaret Kolls was featured playing Rachmaninoff's Second Concerto.

The orchestra again provided the accompaniment for the Messiah in its forty-third annual performance.

Professor Paul Grover may be given credit for the orchestra's successful year.

University Concert Band

The University band's year began with the first home football game when then and for all the home games thereafter, they had a halftime routine.

During basketball season, a group from the band played at the games, as well as for the pep assemblies.

When the sports season was completed, they turned to serious and more difficult concert work. Throughout the year they gave three concerts featuring such pieces as Berlioz's Grand Symphony for Band, Thomas' Raymond, Marche Militaire Francaise, and Park Avenue Fantasy along with many secular pieces of popular nature.

To end their year, the band, under direction of Paul Grover, gave an outdoor concert on Baccalaureate Day.

Chapel Choir

Walking near the chapel on Tuesday or Thursday, you can hear the strains of beautiful music from the voices of the chapel choir directed by Professor Franklin LeBar.

During the year, the choir led two inspiring chapel services featuring songs as "How Lovely is Thy Dwelling Place," "The Lord is My Shepherd," and Negro spirituals.

From the choir comes a sextette and triple trio who sing at such activities as the Elks Club meetings, Conzett Lounge teas, and evening church services. They also added an inspiring singing of carols at the S.C.A. Christmas Banquet and several secular songs at the May Fete program.

A Cappella Choir

During that first week of school, many of us were nervously awaiting that choir list; but the relief came soon enough as we proudly saw our names.

Then there were the hours of blending voices and fun to create the beautiful effects of which the choir is so well-known.

After those hours of labor—we were rewarded. We took a short trip to Benton and Dodgeville, and gave several song services in assemblies.

Lastly, we remember the choir tour and the wonderful times. There was always a new joke to tell or a good game of canasta, or sights to see in a new town.

All these things add up to this: fun—fellowship—and song for the A Cappella Choir.

Ballad Singers

Ten people gathered around a table usually means only one thing—"Soup's on!" But if the fellows in the group have donned kelly-green bow ties, and the gals wear green wescots, think again. They're the Ballad Singers—and sing they do. Their repertoire consists mainly of folk ballads, such as "The Devil and the Farmer's Wife" from New York State, and "Seventeen Come Sunday" (obviously a lie in most cases!) They're a happy lot and throw their songs your way with a smile and a toss of the head.

The "Deltas"

We Deltas have had another exciting year. Remember that grand Flunk Weekend that ended the '48-'49 season? Oh, that delicious food . . . those comfortable cots . . . the boat rides . . . swimming and sunbathing at the gravel pit . . . and, of course, that constant game of "500"!

This fall we began our year by taking in three upperclass girls, and adding Mrs. Fuerste as our new honorary. Following their initiation, we held a date picnic at Eagle Point Park. This was termed a huge success. On our Homecoming float the new girls ably portrayed "Luther Goes to the Dogs." The Deltas again claimed honors when Jeannie Konzett was crowned Homecoming queen, and Alyce Houston was selected as one of her attendants. The bake sale we featured before Thanksgiving proved us to be good cooks; the proceeds went toward our dance in the spring. Second semester rushing which climaxed our year brought us five new Deltas.

Was it a successful year? Full of fun? Just ask us!

The "Gammas"

Open warfare seems to have pervaded Flunk Weekend for the Gamma's. Every night pajama-clad figures stole between the beds and pointed loaded pistols at their sisters. A "swish" would be heard out, followed by a shriek of "Who squirted me with the water gun?"

These high spirits when joined with those of the Mu Sigs produced a highly successful show called "Dreamer's Holiday." Such talent! Even the Gammas never guessed that "Temptation" Shepherd or "The Man I Love" Hamilton could be so deadly.

Their social events during the year included a whist party at Hamilton's, a Christmas party at Kissel's, and a date event at Eagle Point Park. Every year is the biggest year yet, and they're willing to say it again for this year.

The "Zetas"

Flecks of blue and silver reflecting in the soft glow of candlelight—talisman roses radiating a sweet scent to the room. This is one of the many treasured memories each Zeta keeps locked in her heart. The memory of her first sorority tea.

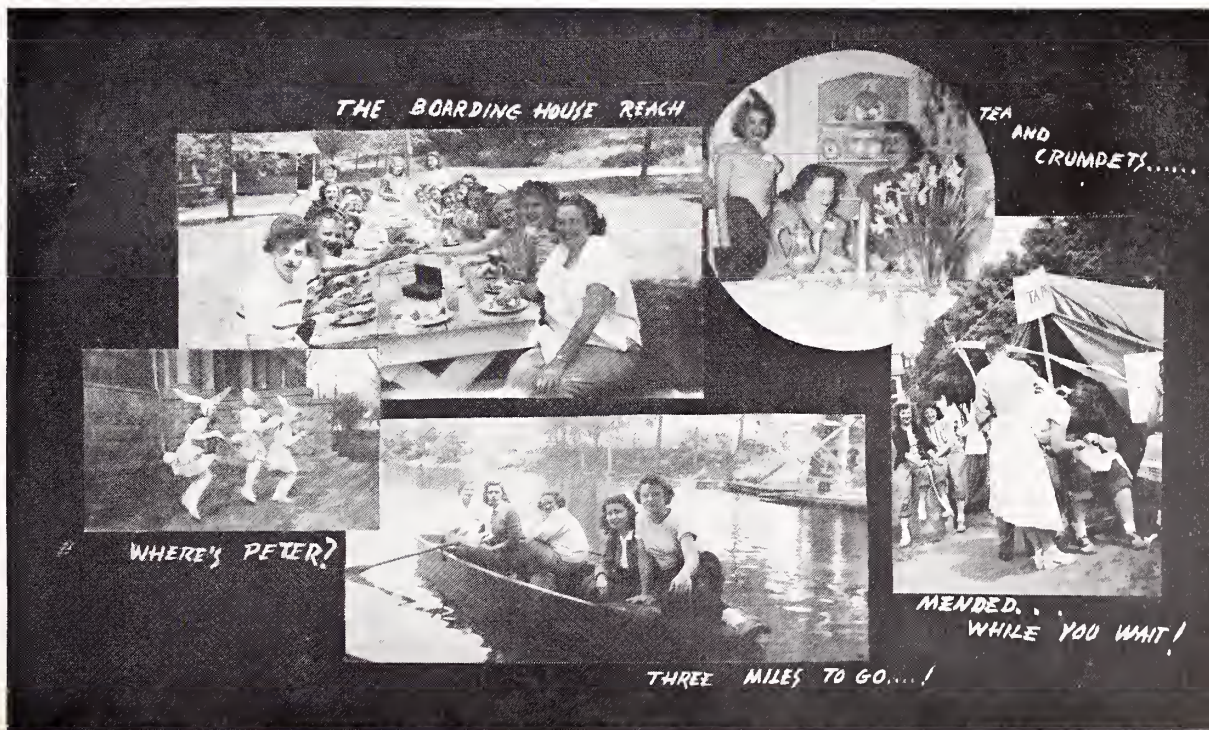

We remember the May Fete and the work in our prize winning tent; the Home-coming parade in which we presented, "Defeat of the Norsemen"; our wonderful dinner sponsored by the alum chapter.

And by no means last we remember our week-end at the Dam Camp. How our muscles ached after manning the oars on our visits to the Phi O and Mu Sigs camps, but it was worth it!

To our graduating seniors we pay tribute. We'll miss the thrilling chords from the pianos of Mike, Betty, and Camille. We'll miss the beautiful tones coming from the mouths of Lynn and Eleanor; Helen's pep and enthusiasm for everything, and even Camille's jokes. We'll miss their leadership, loyalty, and service.

And so another year comes to an end; a year of happiness and comradeship. Yes—"There's a club in our college, by the name of Zeta Phi; the nicest club that we could find, and we'll love it 'til we die."

The "A's"

As in previous years, the "A's" have a complete and well-rounded calendar of activities. Rushing, formal and informal dances and initiations, Flunk Weekend, and other campus activities make up the annual schedule. Of course the inimitable Athenean Dinner Dance is the highlight of the year. This is the thirtieth year this traditional dance has been held.

Athenean members are again among the campus leaders; Keith Ackman and Eldon Loats have been named in "Who's Who," maintaining the past average of two members a year receiving this honor. President Bill Burnette who was co-captain of our football squad this year and president of the "D" Club, was a member of the Student Council and presided over Inter-Fraternity Council.

The "A's" once more have a number of the sports luminaries from the athletic squads of the University. From last spring we have Price, Herzog and Cannon from track squad; Loats and Siege, tennis; McBride, golf. This year we have footballers Burnette, Luehr, Price, Loats, Braucht, Sams, Stewart, Herzog, and Tuttle; from the cage team: Loats, Luehr, Kremer, Price, Hutchison, Cannon, Braucht, and Herzog.

We also have a potential "Lord Byron" in our fraternity. Bryan Cannon has written a number of poems and has published his first book of poetry this year. Price—$1.50—See Bryan Cannon or any "A". Money well spent—plug.

A record of four consecutive victories in the annual Inter-Fraternity athletic tournament for the fraternity athletic trophy is another "A" achievement of which we are equally proud.

Brothers tried and true, long we cherish one another.

May the cords of blue, forever bind one to the other, ah! la! ra!

And though we part, we'll meet again, beneath Athena's banner always,

May our memories linger, of our Athenean days!

The "Mu Sigs"

To Our Fraternity Brothers and Fellow Students:

Eleven years ago, in April, 1939, the Mu Sigma Beta Fraternity was founded on the Dubuque Campus by nine charter members. The fraternity has grown, until now we have thirty-two active members, twenty-two before pledging.

This has been an outstanding year for the Mu Sigs. Several social functions have been sponsored by us, including the FAD dance and "Dreamer's Holiday"—both very worthy, we think. In addition there have been several fraternity parties.

The fraternity eagerly looks forward to Flunk Weekend this year. Last year our battle with the Phi O's wasn't too successful, but we hope to do better this year.

We of the Mu Sigma Beta are highly confident that the high quality of the Mu Sigs will continue through the coming years. Long live the Mu Sigs!

The "Phi O's"

With the loss of twelve members facing the Fraternity in the spring, the Phi O's returned to the U last September determined to make this year one for the parting members to remember, and it has been.

The Phi O's, never known to be lax when concerned with social affairs, started the year by sponsoring several all school dances. Among them was the first free all school dance.

Homecoming also proved very eventful for the Phi O's. They started the festivities off by taking second place in the parade with their float. Later that day at the game, their refreshment concession proved a huge success.

Eyeing future events, the Phi O's see several outstanding possibilities, with the Flunk Weekend and the Inter-Fraternity athletic events coming up. They aim for the athletic cup and then, of course, in the Annual water battle with their friendly rivals, they hope that they will again be able to fly the flag of victory. Too, they hope to retain the scholarship cup now in their possession.

During the rushing season, nineteen pledges were initiated into the Frat.

"D" Club

Officers

President.....Bill Burnette
Vice President.....Ronald Anfenson
Secretary-Treasurer.....Keith Malone

The "D" Club is the University's organization for lettermen.

Last year's president called the first meeting of the 1949-50 season for the purpose of electing officers. New president Bill Burnette then put a hand to the old familiar first-of-the-year matters: the printing of football programs and the planning of the Homecoming dance. Committees were appointed to get these tasks under way. The printing of the programs proceeded without hindrance—but not so with the dance. Theft of the decorations for the dance at the last moment did not keep the gay spirit of Homecoming away. The spirit of friendship and the spirit of the reunion of old classmates along with new acquaintances is one of the big remembrances of the day's activities. The dance was a real success, with no rain during the evening as has been the usual case at the past few Homecomings. Music was provided by Will Thorpe's Orchestra.

Seated: B. Connell, Bill Johanssen, B. Burnette, D. Price, D. McAllister, Bret Johanssen
Standing: T. Schavone, R. Schumacher, J. Holcomb, R. Hutchison, B. Cannon, B. Williams, B. Nissen, B. Braucht, B. Purcell

"D" Club

The afternoon provided a thrilling win over Luther College. At half time, President Bill Burnette crowned Jeanne Conzett Homecoming Queen. Her court included Alice Bowen, Alyce Houston, Ruth Gloyd, and Madeline Carey.

At the Athletic Banquet which wound up the "D" Club activities for the year 1948-49, the following awards were given: Outstanding Senior Athlete Trophy, Earl Gantenbein; Outstanding Freshman Athlete, Bob Purcell; "D" Club Scholarship Trophy, Earl Gantenbein. Captain blankets went to Mel Kissel, football; Earl Gantenbein, basketball; Bob Williams, track.

Even as the KEY goes to press, the track member of the "D" Club and future lettermen are getting into shape for the coming spring track season. Good luck, fellows.

The "D" Club wishes to express its thanks to everyone who helped in any way to make the 1949-50 Athletic program at the University a success.

Seated: P. Tindrell, A. Seibert, F. North, L. Watts, M. Kennedy, T. Schaumberg

Joe Fortunato, line coach

Dean Wallace, assistant coach

(Right) Co-captain Bill Burnette, another iron man in the forward wall, who showed ability at either tackle or guard.

(Left) Co-captain "Beef" Malone, the Spartan's Co-captain and all-conference center. They holler when he hits 'em.

Phil Tindrell . . . A speedy frosh backfield man. Dubuque will hear much from Phil during the next three years.

Buck Herzog . . . A local Dubuque boy, who showed up well in spots. Buck will be back next year.

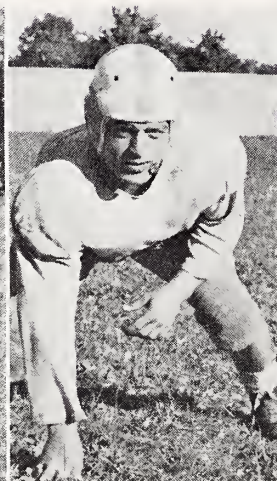

Bob Purcell . . . Dubuque's atomic speedster, for the past two seasons understudy to Slug Miller. Bob is expected to fill Miller's shoes for the next two years.

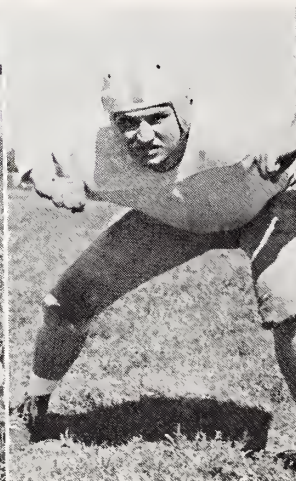

Duane Allan . . . A steady performer. Allan could always be counted upon to do his job well.

Ken Kiburz . . . Dubuque's giant tackle. An impregnable wall in the Spartan line who will be sorely missed when next fall rolls around.

Bob Bove . . . The dynamic little guard's great 1949 performance was rewarded by being elected next year's captain.

Don McAllister . . . Steady Spartan end who has been a stand-out for three campaigns and will be back again in the fall.

Mary Roesler . . . hard running back, good blocker, and colorful performer on and off the field.

Dwight Price . . . A bulldozer at his tackle spot. Price gave the Spartans a lot of good football.

Keith Brown . . . Dubuque's triple threat backfield star. Brown could run, pass or punt with equal ability.

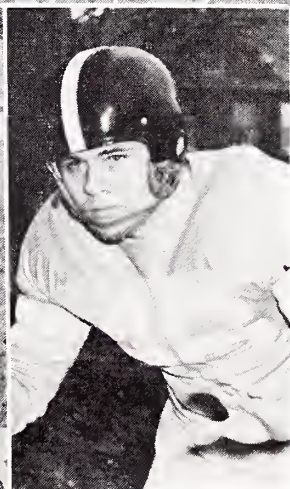

Bob Miller . . . Bob led the Spartans in scoring, and ground gaining. Once ran 85 yards from scrimmage to score.

Ray Schumacher . . . A dependable back, showed much promise, but missed most of the competition because of a knee injury suffered early in the season.

Tony Schovone . . . A fullback in 1947 and 1948, Tony was shifted to the line last year where he finally found himself and developed into a star.

Felix North . . . A good defensive back, who snared several touchdowns bound passes during the season.

Bob Wicklund . . . A tall, solid end. Wicklund is one of two freshmen to win a letter.

Paul Luehr . . . Pass snatching end who has one more year of competition.

Bud Loats . . . Bud was handicapped because of a bad shoulder most of the season, but was always a steady hard working end.

Will Tuttle . . . A rugged man in the line, Tut always gave a good performance during his four-year grid career at Dubuque.

Ron Anfenson . . . Young sophomore center who shows great promise and who will step into "Beef" Malone's big shoes.

George Buck . . . Buck was dynamite in the line in 1949 and should be even better in the future.

Football

Although Coach Moco Mercer's Dubuque gridders failed to repeat their 1948 performance as Iowa Conference champions they were again one of the strong contenders. The Spartans finished second in league play losing only one of five conference tilts. All told Dubuque suffered only two setbacks in eight grid games over the entire season.

The rudest jolt came at the outset of the campaign when the Dubuquers were humbled 64-0 by Iowa State at Clyde Williams Field in Ames.

Following that holocaust the Spartans bounced back amidst the friendly surroundings of Chalmers Field to belt Buena Vista 19-0. All three Dubuque touchdowns came in the third period with "Slug" Miller scoring two and passing for a third.

Parsons fell before the Dubuque onslaught at Fairfield the next Saturday 27-0 for the Spartans' second Iowa Loop triumph.

Then on October 8 at Chalmers Field, Dubuque decimated Platteville Miners 67-0.

Central, the Spartans' old nemesis, ruined the Mercermen's aspirations for a second consecutive Iowa Loop title by trouncing them 14-6 at Pella.

Dubuque annexed its 11th consecutive homecoming victory October 22 by whipping the Luther College Norsemen 21-0. Bob Miller led the Dubuque offensive machine with two touchdowns, his understudy, Bob Purcell, tallying the third.

November 5 saw the Spartans climax their home season with a convincing 38-7 conquest of Iowa Wesleyan.

At Canton, Missouri, the Mercermen dropped the curtain on the 1949 grid year by racing to a 34-21 decision over Culver-Stockton.

Bob Miller led Dubuque with 13 touchdowns for 78 points. His backfield partner, Keith Brown was second with 44.

 Third row: Liddle, Holcomb, Domsalla, Sams, Bergstrom, Price, Herzog, Cousins, Roesler, Kramer
 Back row: McAllister, Kiburz, Herring, Loats, Luehr, Wicklund, Anfenson, Allen, Braucht, Schumacher

Defensive standouts were Co-captains Bill Burnette and Keith Malone along with Bob Bove, Ken Kiburz, and Dwight Price.

Miller, Burnette, and Malone were all-Iowa Conference selections and Malone received honorable mention on the Little All-American eleven.

Letters were awarded twenty-two Spartan gridders.

Basketball

Joe Fortunato, in his first year as Dubuque cage mentor, did a remarkable job in maintaining the Spartans' traditional prowess on the hardwood. Although the coveted Iowa Loop trophy eluded the Spartans again this year, the Dubuquers brought home other honors as compensation.

Three school records were erased. The Spartans counted 1162 points over a 19 game stretch to rub out last year's mark of 1095 in 20 tilts. The 61.2 average per game is highest known offensive average in University history and the 90-48 thumping given Central constitutes a single game mark. Dubuque's 14-5 season's mark ranked third in the state and the Spartans captured the DeKalb Invitational Tourney in January.

Fortunato had 8 veterans on hand at the outset of the campaign including three first stringers of the previous year plus Jim Kremer, star of the 1948 championship five, who missed the 1949 season due to illness.

For the first time the Iowa Conference was divided. Dubuque was placed in the Southern Division along with St. Ambrose, Parsons, Simpson, Central and Iowa Wesleyan.

Dubuque disposed of their first two opponents, La Crosse 50-41, and Platteville Tech 69-46, with little difficulty.

But this early season success was short-lived. Western Illinois Teachers slapped the Spartans 68-42, for the Dubuquers' worst setback since their loss to mighty Bradley in 1948.

A few nights later the Spartans again met disaster. This time it was Iowa Wesleyan who applied the damper 52-49 in an Iowa Conference contest. Later the Spartans walloped the Tigers 83-43 at Dubuque.

Those two reverses tended to set the wheels of a potentially powerful Dubuque machine in motion again. Just before Christmas Fortunato's cagers started a seven game winning skein by clipping Parsons 48-46.

During the holidays Dubuque spread havoc over the west by trimming Buena Vista 45-43, South Dakota 54-53, and Wayne Teachers 75-55.

The Spartans journeyed from the Missouri across the Mississippi where they swept aside DeKalb 45-43, and Illinois Normal 61-49 to take the DeKalb Invitational Tourney championship.

Platteville Tech was subdued 71-38, but the winning streak was broken at Davenport by St. Ambrose 60-44. After that loss the Spartans breezed by Simpson, Central, Iowa Wesleyan and Parsons only to bow before St. Ambrose 82-80 at Dubuque. It was the Spartans' first home-court loss in 21 games.

Even with those setbacks the Dubuquers were still a factor in the hottest Loop race in years. The Spartans roared back into contention for the title with a 56-48 triumph over Central but lost out in the season's final by dropping a 54-51 thriller to Simpson, to finish fourth in league with a 6-4 record.

Captain Leroy Watts rounded out a brilliant four year career. The Dubuque star was again an all-conference selection. Besides being the Spartans' floor general and defensive giant, Watts led the scoring parade with 248 points in 19 contests.

Also winding up their eligibility as Spartans were Bud Loats who graduated at mid-semester, Dwight Price and Bob Nissen.

Eleven letters were presented at the basketball banquet. Leroy Watts, Rhys Hutchison, Bill Braucht, Bryan Cannon, Jack Holcomb, Jim Kremer, Bud Loats, Paul Luehr, Bob Nissen, Dwight Price, Bob Purcell.

Rhys Hutchison will be next year's captain.

Intramural Basketball Champs

Keith Brown, Archery Champ

Intramural Sports

Intramural Athletics moved into full swing when 120 men reported for intramural basketball. Intramural Director C. T. Peterson with Will Tuttle as his assistant organized two basketball leagues, the American and the National.

In the American League six teams were organized, each adopting the name of a Big Ten school. Composing this league were the following teams: Illinois, Northwestern, Michigan State, Indiana, Ohio State, and Minnesota.

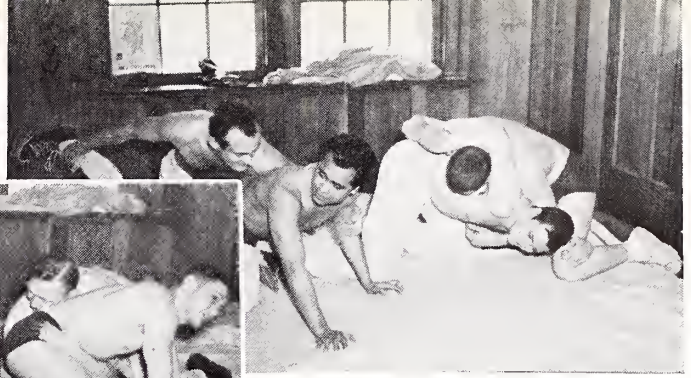

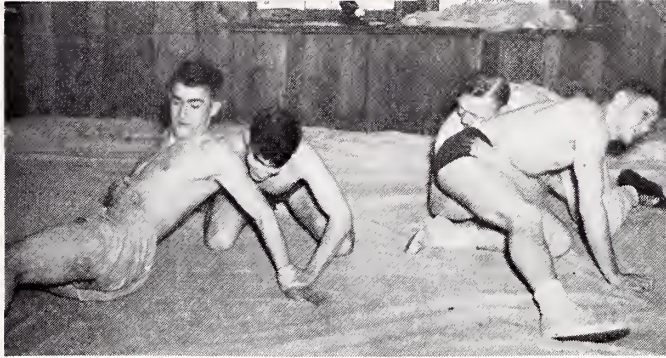

Michigan, Purdue, Army, Iowa, Wisconsin and Navy were the representatives of the National League.

Michigan, the championship team, won their league title handily, going on to defeat Illinois 34-29. The Wolverines, captained by Jim Guenther, had a perfect final record of 6 wins and no setbacks.

Illinois won the American League championship by clipping Northwestern in the play-off tilt. Northwestern, composed entirely of freshmen, dropped a 33-30 encounter. Dick Hendee captained the Illinois quintet in their unsuccessful title bid.

Not only was Keith Brown one of the top-notch Spartan football players, but he also participated in intramurals. Brownie also won the intramural archery championship this year.

Wrestling

The University of Dubuque sponsored a varsity wrestling squad for the first time since the war. Dubuque Athletic Director and head football coach, "Moco" Mercer guided the fortunes of the year's team.

The group made two off-campus appearances. The Spartan matmen scrimmaged with Cornell's perennial mid-west greats. Next the Dubuque grapplers journeyed to Wartburg College, Waverly, Iowa, to take part in the conference meet.

Competing against such competition as St. Ambrose, Iowa Wesleyan, Wartburg and Upper Iowa the Mercermen placed fourth. Lack of experience, which the other teams possessed, told on the Dubuquers and was one of the primary factors for their winding up near the bottom end of the ledger. Next year a team of veterans will represent the Spartans on the mat.

Spartan wrestlers included: Jim Baber, Dick Jones, Jay Childs, Dick Masten, Pat Kramer, John Sass, Isaiah Zamarripa, Mal Kennedy, Russ Schetgen and Ed Donaldson.

Cross Country Champ: Bret Johannsen
Second Place: Dick Adams
Third Place: Mal Kennedy

Coach C. T. Peterson's youthful trackmen, sprinkled with a few old timers in the personage of Leroy Watts, Bret Johannsen, Dwight Price, and Bob Williams, raced to another successful track season.

"Bounding" Bob Williams was the hero of the 1949 campaign, grabbing almost automatic firsts in the high hurdles, low hurdles, and the broad jump. In a triangle meet at Loras, Williams broke Sol Butler's (a former Spartan great) 33 year old record in the 220 low hurdles. Williams covered the distance in 25.0 seconds, 3-5 of a second under Butler's old mark. He was also a member of the Spartans' superspeeded 880-yard relay team. Other members of the quartet of "flying saucers" were Leroy Watts, and freshmen Bob Connell and Paul Scharlepp.

In addition to capturing the Southern Division Title, the Spartans placed second in the all-conference meet at Loras and took fourth place in the Coe Relays at Cedar Rapids.

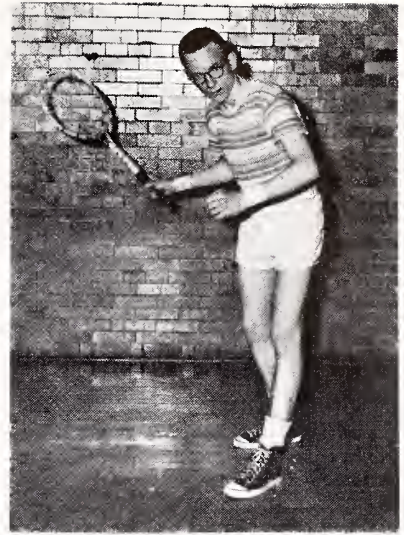

Letter Winners were: Bryan Cannon, Bob Connell, Bill Floyd, Gene Gordon, Bob Herzog, Jim Hinman, Bill Johannsen, Bret Johannsen, Malcom Kennedy, Dwight Price, Paul Scharlepp, Aldonn Seibert, Ted Schaumburg, Leroy Watts, and Bob Williams.

"Obbie" Alozie, Tennis champ, 48-49

Stan Efferding, Tennis champ, 49-50

Intramural Tennis

Intramural tennis experienced a new champion when Stan Efferding triumphed over Obbie Alozie. Score of the three sets between Efferding and Alozie were 6-1, 6-0, and 6-3. By defeating Alozie, Efferding replaced him as champ. Obbie held the crown last year but could not return Efferding's drives well enough to retain his title.

Efferding reached the finals by defeating Nadeen Muna in the semi-finals while Alozie made the finals by downing Bob Herzog.

MINOR SPORTS

Golf

Golf did not have the services of a coach last season due to the limited coaching staff. A four man Spartan golf team placed second in a triangular meet with Iowa State Teachers and Platteville Tech.

Byron McBride, John Schiltz, Gene Gordon, and Andy Loats represented the University. No letters were awarded for participation in this sport.

Tennis

Despite the absence of a coach, the Spartans assembled a tennis squad which was composed of the following men: Bud Loats, Obinnava Alozie, Stan Efferding, Bob Miller, Howie Matthias and John Siege. As in golf no letters were awarded for participation.

An exceptionally strong Coe College aggregation trimmed the Spartans in two clashes.

The Spartan netmen also participated in a contest with Wartburg and took part in the Conference meet.

In the Intramural Basketball Tournaments of the last four years, the team of the Class of 1950 has been the victor. The Spartanettes, our University Women's Basketball Team, glided into honors this year by showing excellent playing ability on the basketball court in the town league. Teams sponsored by various businesses of the city matched skills on the Fulton Gym floor during the year. Bill Burnette and Keith Brown were co-coaches of the Spartanettes. Mari Bartlow was their manager.

Any girl desiring to participate and excel in sports finds opportunity in W. A. R. A. Organized especially for the purpose of promoting good sportsmanship and providing recreational time for the girls interested, it holds many tournaments throughout the school year. Beginning with archery, there is shuffleboard, volley ball, basketball, badminton, pingpong and tennis. Free throw champ this year was Helen Main.

Because a cheering crowd isn't always present at the events, the girls are able to earn their glory by working hard to receive W.A.R.A. points. During the year, dances and fun nights show our interest in contributing to the social life of the campus.

Although the Spartan Club this year found that transportation costs were prohibitive to attending any out-of-town football games, they did attend a basketball game down at St. Ambrose.

Early this fall the club members chose the new cheerleaders. Loujean Greeno led them as their captain. Three sophomore and three freshmen girls made up the squad and later on in the season, three freshman fellas were added.

The club again sponsored the Sadie Hawkins Dance as their big social event of the year. Al Capp himself sent the decorations for this dance from New York.

We're looking for an even bigger year in 1950-51, when more of us will be able to cheer the boys on whether they're here at home or on the road.

DUBUQUE

Locust Street from Seventh to Eighth Avenue

Since its very beginning, in 1894, this store has always sought the best for its clientele and has maintained a policy of satisfactory service to all.

The inward urge, each year, to make it better and of more service to the community has resulted in the up-building of a great retail institution — one which is conceded as being the largest department store in Iowa. Diligence, perseverance and straightforwardness count equally as well in business as in school life.

In Appreciation

Behind every publication of the University yearbook are found so great a number of services performed by interested friends of the "KEY," that neither names or services can be listed. To these people, the staff offers first its appreciation.

And then, in particular, to:

D. Alan Martens, staff advisor . . .

The Public Relations Office—and all who dwell therein—'nuff said . . .

Hruska's, photographers and past masters of patience . . .

Yonkers (deliver us from deadlines) Engraving Company . . .

Hoermann Press with Mr. Bray, Monty, Si, Bill, Charlie, and the smile behind the desk . . .

The S. K. Smith Company of Chicago, four square . . .

The businesses of Dubuque whose advertisements helped to make the presses run . . .

Last year's editors Alice and Jane who helped us read the directions on the sign posts along the way.

Drawings on all "Udee" pages were done by Mary Greer, Editor
